Prominent chemist, educator named NPS provost

Dr. Harrison Shull, professor of chemistry and former chancellor of the University of Colorado, was appointed provost of the Naval Postgraduate School by the secretary of the Navy this week.

Shull has a distinguished academic career and outstanding record of service to the government. In addition to his post as chancellor at the University of Colorado, Shull has held other major university positions, including provost of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, dean of the Graduate School at Indiana University and senior scientist at Uppsala University, Sweden. He is a member of the National Academy of Sciences, having served on its Executive Committee, and on the governing board of the National Research Council.

CNO advisor

A member of the CNO's Executive Panel, he has provided advice to the Navy's highest ranking officer on a broad range of education and research matters and served on several task forces for the CNO.

NPS Superintendent Rear Adm. Robert C. Austin expressed his pleasure with Shull's acceptance of the appointment. Said Austin: "He is one of the preeminent educators and scientists in the country. His appointment re-emphasizes the Navy's commitment to excellence in postgraduate education."

Shull, born in Princeton, New Jersey, graduated from Princeton University with highest honors, and received his doctorate in physical chemistry from the University of California, Berkeley.

He and his wife, Wil, are expected at the Postgraduate School this summer.

Netzer honored as top college educator

Aeronautics Professor Dave Netzer received the Allen Griffin Award for Excellence in Teaching during ceremonies held last Thursday in Monterey.

The award, presented by the Community Foundation for Monterey County, included $1,600 and a commemorative plaque.

After working in an industrial setting as a development engineer on the Titan III, Netzer, 49, earned a Ph.D. in aeronautics from Purdue University in 1968. He has been an NPS faculty member since April 1968.

Netzer's research interests include solid propellant combustion, internal ballistics of solid fuel ramjets, and aircraft generated air pollution. During the past 20 years, he has gradually built the school's rocket lab facility at the NPS Annex.

Netzer was automatically nominated for the Griffin Award after receiving the Rear Admiral John Jay Schieffelin Award for Excellence in Teaching from NPS last year.

USS Hoel plans Memorial Day visit

The "Charles F. Adams" class guided missile destroyer USS Hoel (DDG-130) will arrive in Monterey this afternoon for a four day port visit. During the port visit the USS Hoel will be open for public visiting on May 29 and May 30 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. each day. For safety reasons, no one under the age of eight will be allowed on the tours. The tours will begin from the Coast Guard pier in Monterey.

The ship, commissioned in 1962, has a displacement of 4,500 tons and runs on twin steam turbine engines. The Hoel is assigned to Destroyer Squadron Twenty One and is homeported in San Diego.

The USS Hoel completed its most recent deployment in January 1988. In October 1987, the USS Hoel played a significant role in "Operation Nimble Archer" in which she and three other destroyers attacked and destroyed two militarized Iranian oil platforms in the Persian Gulf in retaliation for a missile attack on the U.S.-flagged tanker Sea Isle City.

Cmdr. Clement Ward is the commanding officer of the USS Hoel and also is a graduate of the Naval Postgraduate School, where he received a master of science degree in financial management in 1985.

From the Superintendent

by Rear Admiral Robert C. Austin

It was my pleasure to announce at last Tuesday's faculty meeting that the Secretary of the Navy has appointed as provost of the Naval Postgraduate School Dr. Harrison Shull. Dr. Shull's appointment culminates an extensive search by the faculty search committee. I congratulate the committee on the thoroughness and breadth of their effort.

Dr. Shull has a distinguished academic record. He has served as provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, as dean of the graduate school at Indiana University, as the senior scientist at Uppsala University, Sweden, and as chancellor of the University of Colorado. His academic discipline is chemistry. For his professional work and scholarly accomplishments he has been voted a member of the National Academy of Science. He has served on the academy's executive committee, as well as on the governing board of the National Research Council.

Dr. Shull's appointment to the Naval Postgraduate School continues distinguished contributions to the U.S. Navy. He has chaired two task forces commissioned by the Chief of Naval Operations: the Task Force on Naval Education and Training, and the Task Force on Personal Excellence. Additionally, he has served on the Navy's Task Force on Mine Warfare and, as a member of the CNO's Executive Panel, he has provided advice to the panel on a broad range of education and research matters. I consider him one of the preeminent educators and scientists in the country. I believe his appointment continues to emphasize the Navy's commitment to excellence in postgraduate education.

To the officers assigned to study here, your education is aimed at ensuring that the effectiveness of our forces is kept at the forefront by the understanding that you develop in your studies. The Naval Postgraduate School has been tasked by the Secretary of the Navy to be a flagship institution. We face a special challenge in providing ever stronger academic programs that will provide in you the necessary insights to develop the Navy of the 21st century.

I look forward to the outstanding contributions of Dr. Shull in making this happen. I'm sure all will join me in giving him a warm welcome to Monterey.

Rear Admiral Shaw superintendent's guest lecturer

Rear Adm. John F. Shaw will be the superintendent's guest lecturer on Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. in King Hall. His topic will be "Battleship, Battle Group and Carrier Battle Group Operations in the Indian Ocean."

Rear Adm. Shaw is a 1960 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy. In April 1967, Shaw reported to the Naval Postgraduate School for a two year tour and earned a master of science degree in management. In January 1971, Shaw attended the Armed Forces Staff College. He was then ordered to the office of the Chief of Naval Operations, serving as an anti-air warfare analyst and as an assistant for decision coordination in the systems analysis division.

In August 1975, Shaw was assigned to the staff of commander, Naval Air Force, U.S. Atlantic Fleet, serving as the first readiness and training nuclear propulsion officer. In August 1983, Shaw reported to his first flag officer assignment as director, DDG 51 program, Naval Sea Systems Command, and in September, 1985, he became the Aegis shipbuilding program manager.

Shaw took command of the Midway battle group just before it deployed to the Indian Ocean in October 1987, and commanded it until March of this year.

Shaw's decorations include the Legion of Merit with Gold Star, the Meritorious Service Medal with Gold Star, the Navy Commandation Medal with Gold Star, and the Battle Efficiency ribbon with four awards.

Military awards ceremony held today

Rear Adm. Robert C. Austin, NPS superintendent, will present awards to 10 student officers at 2:30 p.m. Friday, May 27, in the Quarterdeck Lounge of Hermann Hall. Family, friends and colleagues of the recipients are cordially invited to attend.

Secretary of Defense

Memorial Day message

by Frank C. Carlucci

Every year on Memorial Day, we pause to remember those brave soldiers, sailors, airmen, and marines who lost their lives in defense of our nation.

Their sacrifice reminds us of what the ultimate cost of freedom can be. While we can never repay the debt we owe to those who protected our freedom with all they held sacred, we can do everything in our power to ensure that their deaths were not in vain.

Since the birth of our republic, America has held a special place among nations. Our dedication to liberty and justice — and our willingness to do what we must to protect this nation in its times of peril — have inspired hope and admiration in freedom-loving people everywhere. That is why you, the men and women of our country's armed forces, have such an important job. You serve as the bulwark against those who threaten our nation from without; your patriotism serves as a warning to them — and as an example to your fellow Americans.

This is why carrying out your daily duties with skill and dedication is so important. It is your way of paying tribute on this Memorial Day to all who went before you in the service of this great nation. It is your way of ensuring that future generations will continue to enjoy the freedoms we hold so dear.

My thoughts are with you on this day of remembrance.

Monterey, Salinas PRIMUS health care clinics open next month

Two PRIMUS clinics will open their doors in June to provide free primary health care to active duty personnel, their dependents and military retirees. The civilian-run PRIMUS clinics in Salinas and at the Presidio of Monterey will provide convenient medical care to military personnel 365 days a year.

Alternative

PRIMUS Clinics Senior Medical Director Rodney J. Millary, M.D., explains that "both PRIMUS clinics will provide a viable alternative for health care for military personnel, dependents and retirees who now utilize the outpatient services of Silas B. Hays Army Community Hospital or the Presidio of Monterey Health Clinic. The clinics will provide a full range of primary care services typically found in an outpatient clinic or doctor's office."

PRIMUS doctors and nurses will provide treatment seven days a week for small injuries, common illnesses and general medical problems requiring prompt attention. PRIMUS clinics will offer a variety of health care services, including pediatric care, gynecological care, routine immunizations, and laboratory and x-ray services as well as health and wellness education programs. The PRIMUS clinics will not treat broken bones or life-threatening emergencies.

Pharmacies at the PRIMUS clinics will fill PRIMUS physician and Presidio of Monterey dental prescriptions. All CHAMPUS prescriptions will be filled at the pharmacy at Silas B. Hays Community Hospital.

Walk-in clinic

The Salinas PRIMUS clinic, located in the Harkins Center Office complex at 945 Blanco Circle, will have nine exam/treatment rooms. It will be a walk-in clinic, but patients are encouraged to call in advance to expedite treatment. Active duty personnel can use the Salinas PRIMUS clinics evenings and weekends. However, the Consolidated Troop Medical Clinic should be used for sick call or military physical exams.

The Presidio of Monterey PRIMUS clinic will have 14 exam/treatment rooms. It will operate primarily on a same-day appointment system. The Presidio of Monterey PRIMUS clinic will offer sick call and military physical exams to active duty personnel stationed at the Presidio or assigned at NPS.

For more information concerning the PRIMUS clinics, contact Gregory L. Halley, M.D., PRIMUS project manager for the Fort Ord region, at 422-7998.

Sports beat

by JOI Frank Summers

Thanks to outstanding shooting by Gordon Nakagawa, Keith Adams, Michael Olmstead and Bill Corkill, the 12th Naval District Rifle and Pistol Team came within 11 points of winning the rifle team competition in the Pacific Fleet championships held May 14-20 at Camp Pendleton. The 12th Naval District team finished fourth in the rifle competition and third in pistol shooting. The four shooters from the Naval Postgraduate School and the Fleet Numerical Oceanography Center finished in the top spots in each category.

Silver medal

Adams won a silver medal and Olmstead won a bronze in the Excellence in Competition Rifle Match. Corkill won a silver medal in the Excellence in Competition Pistol Match.

In other categories: Nakagawa finished second in the Long Range Service Rifle and Adams finished third. Olmstead captured the SECNAV trophy for new shooters while teammate Adams finished third, and all four members of the NPS/FNOC team qualified for all future Navy competition.

Varsity slowpitch

The NPS women's varsity slowpitch softball team opened their season with a 7-1 victory over Moffett Field Naval Air Station in the first game of a doubleheader played last weekend at Sparks Field. Moffett came from behind to edge NPS 7-6 in the second game. For both games Neva Langford led the two teams with five hits, and Ingrid Turner had four runs batted in.

The Naval Postgraduate School will sponsor the 18th annual All-Navy Match Racing Championship Biswanger Regatta this weekend on Monterey Bay. This race will draw entries from Navy sailing associations from many areas of California. The racers will sail Shield's-type sloops from Wharf One starting at 11:00 a.m.

Lt. Eric Reinke of the NPS Sailing Association will be defending his sailing title won last year. Lt. Mark Jones also will be sailing for the NPS team.

Socko season

It's time to start planning for the second half of the NPS socko season. Leagues are now being formed. Teams will consist of players from sections, divisions and departments at NPS and its tenant commands. The entry deadline is June 10. Team managers can pick up sign-up sheets at the NPS gym or Recreation Office. For more information about the league, call Sue or Milton Fletcher at ext. 2497.

Prenatal aerobics

Two of Hearts is a prenatal aerobics program designed for women who are more than 12 weeks pregnant. The program emphasizes flexibility, toning and relaxation techniques.

The Two of Hearts classes begin May 31. Classes will be held Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9:30 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. in the NPS Aerobics Studio. The fee is $3.25 per class or $20 per month.

Medical clearance forms, available at the Rec Office, must be turned in at the first class meeting. For more information, call Teresa Powell at 373-5473.

Rec news

The Rec Office has tickets available for Great America. The park is open on weekends until June 1, and then will be open daily until the end of August. The tickets are $11.25 for adults and $8.00 for children ages 3-6. Coupons valid until May 31 also are available for an additional $1.00 off.

Disneyland tickets also are available at the Rec Office at $17.50 for adults and $15.00 for children. This $4.00 discount from the regular price will end June 30.
